The screenshot displays the ViewCentral web application interface within a Microsoft Internet Explorer browser window. The address bar shows the URL: <http://demo.viewcentral.com/events/frame/frame.asp>. The interface includes a top navigation bar with links for Administration, Options, Extras, and Help. A left sidebar contains a tree view of the application's structure, including sections like InterThought, Courses, Locations, Personnel, Schedules, Calendar, Attendees and Programs, Communicating, Managing Data, Partner Admin, Company Admin, Labels and Messages, Reports Admin, Template Views, Help Files, System Lookup, Admin, and menu_vadmin. The main content area is divided into two sections. The top section, titled 'Company Admin', contains a form for entering company information: Company Name (ViewCentral, Inc.), Company Login (demo1), VCADMIN Password, and VCADMIN Confirm Password. The bottom section, titled 'Search Results Settings', displays a table of search results. The table has columns for Company ID, Company, and Company Login ID. The results show a list of companies, including MD's Test Company, MD Test 2, mdtest3, mdtest4, mdtest5, mdtest6, selectica, ViewCentral, Inc., and ViewCentralDemo. The table is paginated, showing records 21 to 40 out of 58 total.

GlobalSelling II Oct 17, 2001-Oct 19, 2001 9:00AM-5:00PM Pacific Time Cancel Date: Oct 8, 2001 Register

Urn: $1,250.00 (USD)

This course teaches the concepts and use of the GlobalSelling application for sales force automation from the perspectives of sales representatives, sales managers, marketing managers, and application administrators.

- Sales representatives learn to manage their activities, leads, opportunities, and accounts.
- Sales managers learn to create and manage territories and forecast targets, and to perform related analysis.
- Marketing managers learn to create and analyze the success of marketing campaigns for new and installed-base contacts, as well as to create scripts for sales personnel.
- Application administrators learn to configure the sales processes and other application-specific parameters.

Note that with the Global eFO release, all functions previously in GlobalSelling are now included in GlobalBasic. Customers upgrading from earlier Global releases will receive GlobalSelling as part of their upgrade and are best served by taking only the GlobalSelling course.
